McCausey Mahogany and Pine Laminated Plank

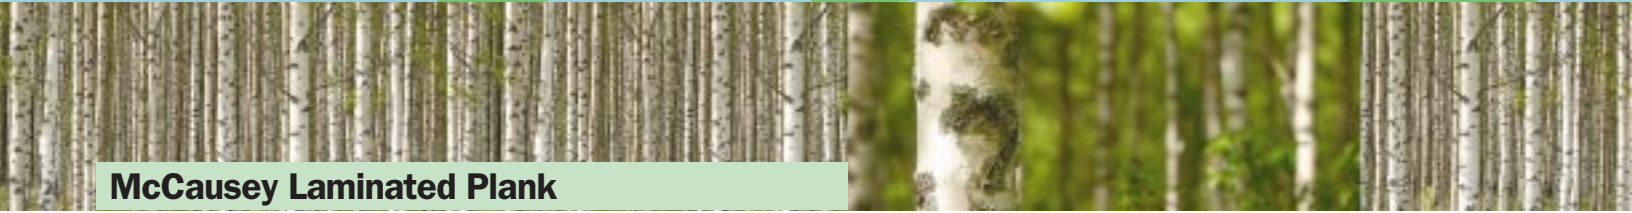

McCausey Laminated Plank is made from a good grade, uniformly dried, clear pattern lumber. Manufacturing begins with surfacing, ripping, chopping and finger-jointing strips for an oversized plank. The strips are face-glued and pressed together to form an oversized plank, which is then surfaced and trimmed to proper dimensions.

McCausey has excellent sources for the raw materials used in our laminated planks. Our laminating sources have had many years of experience in providing laminated lumber that offers quality with time savings and a very competitive price.

Mahogany Laminated Plank is made from Honduras Mahogany. This lumber is more dense and offers good workability for fine detail—the best when the best is needed.

Pine Laminated Plank is made from 100% Sugar Pine, a very good wood pattern lumber, workable by hand or machine.

McCausey offers other rough lumbers, pattern and model supplies, including complementing products for the repair and finishing of project surfaces.

McCausey Jelutong and Western Alder Laminated Plank

McCausey Laminated Plank is made from a good grade, uniformly dried, clear pattern lumber. Manufacturing begins with surfacing, ripping, chopping and finger-jointing strips for an oversized plank. The strips are face-glued and pressed together to form an oversized plank, which is then surfaced and trimmed to proper dimensions.

McCausey has excellent sources for the raw materials used in our laminated planks. Our laminating sources have had many years of experience in providing laminated lumber that offers quality with time savings and a very competitive price.

Jelutong Laminated Plank is made of imported Malaysian hardwood that offers very straight grain, medium density and fine texture.

Alder Laminated Plank is a North American hardwood. Dense and fine-grained, it is excellent for long-lasting patterns with fine detail. It could be used as an alternative to mahogany.

McCausey offers other rough lumbers, pattern and model supplies, including complementing products for the repair and finishing of project surfaces.
